

The background of the entire page is a complex, abstract pattern of thin, flowing lines. These lines are arranged in dense, overlapping, wavy bands that create a sense of movement and depth. The color palette is soft and pastel, featuring various shades of purple, lavender, light blue, and pink, all set against a white background. The lines vary in thickness and curvature, creating a rich, textured effect.

Goudy Old Style is an old-style serif typeface originally created by Frederic Goudy for American Type Foundry in 1905. Goudy Old Style is suitable for text and display applications and matches the historical strand of American printing in the early twentieth century, taking inspiration from the printing of the Italian Renaissance through a specific historical model. Frederic William Goudy, born in March 2, 1868 in Bloomington, Illinois was an American printer, artist and type designer whose typefaces include Copperplate Gothic, Goudy Old Style and Kennicott.
